

Rules for Use of the DØ Experiment Computing Resources

July 22, 2005 (Version 0.1)

March 10, 2009 (Version 0.2)

1. Users who wish to use the computing resources at Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory (Fermilab) must accept and abide to the policies governing the use of computing resources at Fermilab described in detail on the web page -
http://www.fnal.gov/directorate/Policy_Manual.html#No_21
2. Users who will be using the computing resources provided by the Open Science Grid (OSG) must also accept and abide by the Acceptable Use Policies of the OSG detailed at:
<http://osg-docdb.opensciencegrid.org/cgi-bin/ShowDocument?docid=86>
3. Users who will be using the computing resources provided by DØ collaborators other than Fermilab or the OSG must also accept and abide by the fair resource usage policies of the individual DØ collaborating institutions.

By requesting to register with the DØ Virtual Organization (VO) you indicate your acceptance to the above policies. Failing to abide to the policies could result in revocation of your access to the resources and/or suspension of the DØ VO membership.
